Safety & Security - Hand in Hand

School holidays or term-time, long or short nights and no matter who you are - around the corner from most of us is a 'danger zone' that is all too tempting for kids who like to explore - Substations.

Neighbourhood Watch are working in partnership with EDF Energy Networks to help protect electricity substations from malicious vandalism and unauthorised access to make our communities safer.

Act Now & Save a Life!

Despite warnings every year people are still killed, or seriously injured, after illegally accessing substations.

So if it's not as secure as this - let us know!

Contact us on 0800 587 3243 and save a life.

Let us know if you see

- Trespassing
- Fly Tipping
- Vandalism
- Broken Locks
- Illegal Access

If your 'Act now | Save a life' card is missing please contact us for a replacement on 0800 587 3243.

Why Substations?

Substations are places that, when illegally tampered with, are potentially dangerous, especially for inquisitive children that may try to enter them. Building safer communities requires vigilance and the will to work together.

Neighbourhood Watch needs everyone to be alert, "notice the unusual" and respond to the suspicious by contacting the police, your Watch Coordinator or the local electricity company.

You can help us build safer communities

- Neighbourhood Watch are about making our communities look, feel and actually be safer
- Neighbourhood Watch exist to encourage you to take an active interest in your environment
- Neighbourhood Watch can help you through partnerships such as this one - alerting you to the dangers - letting you know who to report matters of vandalism to
- Neighbourhood Watch need your active support in order to:
 - Stop petty crime escalating into something more serious
 - Improve your neighbourhood & help save lives
 - Help to make your street a nicer, safer place to live
